Art Unit: 3731

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-21, drawn to the structure of a polymer, classified in class 424, subclass 9.3222.
- II. Claims 22-57, drawn to a guide and structure of polymer, classified in class 514, subclass 2.
- III. Claims 22, 58-59, drawn to a method of using a polymer, classified in class 606, subclass 216.
- IV. Claims 60-86, drawn to a method of fabricating a polymer, classified in class 514, subclass 9.
- V. Claims 87, drawn to another method of fabricating a polymer, classified in class 514, subclass 10.
- VI. Claims 22, 88-97, drawn to a method of fabricating a nerve guide conduit, classified in class 514, subclass 789.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination, Group II, as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination claims details not claimed in the subcombination. The subcombination has separate utility such as use in bonding non-nerve type organs.

Inventions I and III and I and IV are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the product group can be used for a materially different method, such as gluing skin together.

Inventions I and V and I and VI are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the method as claimed in groups V or VI can be used to make materially different products than group I.

Inventions II and III and II and IV are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the method of using the polymer in groups III and IV can be applied with a materially different apparatus than claimed in group II.

Inventions II and V and II and VI are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the method of use of a compound is not related to a method of making a compound or a nerve guide conduit.

Inventions III and IV-VI, IV and V-VI, and V and VI are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the method in the former differs in its effect and can't be used together with the group(s) in the former because two different methods inherently have two different effects and modes of operation.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I-VI are all different, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

A telephone call was made to Paul E Dietze on March 14, '03 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143). Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
